Anthony Levandowski	Yo! I'm back at 80%, super pumped... we've got to start calling Elon on his shit. I'm not on social media but let's start "faketesla" and start give physics lessons about stupid shit Elon says like this: "we do not anticipate using lidar. Just to make it clear, lidar essentially is active photon generator in the visible spectrum – radar is active photon generation in essentially the radio spectrum. But lidar doesn't penetrate intrusions so it does not penetrate rain, fog, dust and snow, whereas a radar does. Radar also bounces and lidar doesn't bounce very well. You can't do the "look in front of the car in front of you" thing. So I think the obvious thing is to use radar and not use lidar." The photons stop acting like photons at 77Ghz we at least need the geeks on our side and start calling the BS out. Any objections?	Read	9/22/2016
